was the success. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

THE JUDICIAL EMPONE MILL.

Was then taken up, the question being upon Mr. Chase's amendment to dispense with the circuit services on the part of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and for a diminution of the number of said Judges to six whenever the present incumbents, by decease or otherwise, shall have created vacancies.

Mr. Bayann, (dem.) of Del.—I am not in favor of this amendment, because i do not wish, at the present stage of the bill, to embarrass it with munor considerations. If the circuit duty is continued, we shall have to as increase the number of Judges that the Court will be too unwire ily and too tardy in its action. I am opposed to the subcircuit duty is continued, we shall have to so increase the number of Judges that the Court will be too unwie diy and too fardy in its action. I am opposed to the substitute of the Sepator from Illinois. The nine Judges of the Supreme Court cannot travel through their respect ive circuits and do justice to their appelate jurisdiction. The law requires constant study and meditation. This the Judges cannot give under the present system. I prefer, it o, that the Apellate Court should not be composed, even in part of those who had the original jurisdiction of the appealed cases. This could be achieved by releasing the Supreme Court Judges from their services upon the circuits, and then they would constitute an independent tribunal and the difficulties which have been experienced in appeals from our District to Circuit Courts would be availed. The fact that our Judges, un ier the proposed bith could hold two terms per year, and, also have leisure for study, is of no smail moment. I respect popular opinion, but I also desire a government of laws. I would not have a Judge entirely absorbed in precedents, but a Judge without learning is entirely desqualified. In reviewing Mr. Bouglass's substitute, he asked whether there would not be local jealousies as to the place where the proposed intermediate appellate Courts should sit, which could only be removed by carrying all appeals to the chief tribural at Washington. He also thought that the District Judges would not be able to transact the aggregate business of Daviet and Circuit Courts.

The Senate them went into executive session, and at Pa close adjourned.

Washington, Jan. 10, 1855. IMPROVEMENT OF THE MISSISSIPPI SIVER. Among other business, Mr. REHARDSON, (dem.) of Ill., introduced a bill for the improvement of the Mississippi river and tributaries. Referred to the Committee on

The bill amendatory of the Land Graduation act was amounted as first in order, to which was pending Mr. Dawson's amendment, giving a homestead, 160 nores, at actual settlement and cultivation.

Mr. CAMPHELL, (whig) of Ohio, did not like this way of tacking the homestead principle on this bill, and then drawing it through under the operation of the previous question. Let the House walt until the Homestead Mil. as amended by Mr. Hunter in the Senate, shall come up. before they attempt to engraft the Homestead provision.

stead principle, as the effect would be to take the common fund belonging to all the States for the purpose of draining old States to settle the new. In reply to a quescrease of the population and emigration would sattle the pritories.

Mr. Dawson, (dem) of Pa., showed that free grants f lands were not a new principle, as asserted by Mr. Translation of the government from its ommeasurement.

Mr. Ome replied, asying the tendency of the times to make the people lean on the government wheat the overnment should lean on the people. It was time to ut a stop to it.

Mr. CANYMELL moved the bill and the amendments be referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

This motion was disagreed to—$2 against $9.

The question was then stated, on agreeing to Mr. Dawson's amendment, providing, in substance, that any free person who is the head of a family, and a citizen of the United States, shall be entitled to enter a quester section of land, at fourier and one half cents per acre, to be paid for at the expiration of fave years from the date of entry.

The fifth section proposes similar benefits to any individual new a resident of any State or Territory, not a citizen of the United States, but at the time of the passage of the act, having previously filed a declaration of his intention to become such before the insuling of the parent, homestead to be granted on condition of actual settlement and cultivation for five years.

Mr. Cons, (dem.) of Ala, opposed the amendment. The Homestead should stand on its own ments, and not embarras the bill pending; the Homestead could not pass the Schate. He argued in favor of triking out the fifth section as it was of questionship propriety. If foreigners hereafter to come hither shall not be excluded, he would vote against the amendment. Mr. Hawson replied, if there were any doubt shout the fifth section he would consent to strike it out.

Mr. Emisumor said it extended the benefit of homestead to foreign restricted to retrive destinated to the means foreign energration.

Mr. Jones (dem.) of Tenna, contended that naturalizated foreigners should have the benefits of citizen guaranteed by the constitution. If the object is to enclude them, repeal the naturalization laws.

Mr. Come was against legislating for persons now residents of foreign countries. Let those at present here if its attended to.

Mr. Dawson's homested amendment was rejected by a vote of 72 against 93.

Auction in a Church.

Sale of plws is the maddeon square presenterian church—description of the suilding.

There was a large attendance last night at 8 o'clock, to witness the sale of the pews in the new Presbyterian church in Madison square. The bidding at first was quite lively, but before the twentieth pew was sold it fell off, and at the twenty first stopped entirely, and a number were then taken at private sale, at the prices specified on the map.

The terms were twenty five per cent down, and the rest in two, four and six months. Nearly $3,000 were realized in the way of premiums by the auction. Mr. L. M. Roffman was the auctioneer. The following table gives the number of the pew, the price and premium hid-last night. The bids were for choice, and were by per

After the above bids were made, a number were then sold at par, and it was amounced that the rest would be taken at private sale. There was evidently some disappointment on the part of the members that they did not bring higher prices.

The congregation worshipping at this church is under the pastoral charge of Rev. Dr. Adams, formerly of the Presbyterian Church in Broome street.

This new church is one of the most unique in the city. It it in the first pointed English Gothic style. The plan of the church consists in tower porches on each side, in which are black walnut staircases to the galleries. The main body of the church is sixty-two feet by eighty-five, and the Sunday school room, over which is a lecture

The interior of the church has no columns to obstruct the view. The galleries do not rest on columns, but are hung from the walls, and derive no support from the floor.

Both the galleries and roof are illuminated, which gives great lightness to the interior, taking away the heavy appearance, which would be inevitable, if they had been in one color, and serves to particularize the detail. The ground of the panels on the ceiling is blue, with white ornaments. The timbers are painted a neutral tint, ornamented by bandings of vermillon and gilding.

The furniture of the church is of black walnut; the pulpit and screen behind it are richly designed, and have elaborate carved details.

The side windows are filled with stained glass, imported from England, the beautiful window in the tower is designed to give a mellow effect to the atmosphere of the interior in the afternoon.

The roof is open; it is of one span, and is supported on arched principals, which rest on massive stone corbells, built in the buttresses.

There are four entrances to the church by richly moulded doorways, three of which have gabled porches. At the west and is a tower 112 feet high. Its most striking features are the first pointed window, with its deep sill and the trefolded corbed course between the buttresses, to carry the beliefy story.

The corriet of the tower is supported by a trefoiled corbed course, from which will rise an octagonal spire ornamented by enoches at the singles, and a terminate in a finial 250 feet from the ground; the whole will be constructed entirely of stone.

The side walls are familed by massive buttresses to support the trust of the roof; they are in two stages, and terminate in a spile above the side walls. Between these are two there of windows, a couplet to afford light underneath the galleries; above this is a mullioned window for lighting the main body of the church; the corness is the side wall; the corness is refulled.

CHARGE OF PORGING TEXAS STATE BONDS Yesterday, officer Gilbert Hays, the bank police agent arrested a Southerner named Christopher A. Reene charged with having offered for sale three forged certificates of indebtedness of the State of Texas, to ficates of indebtedness of the ritate of Texas, to Fraderick J. James, hower, of 37 Wall street. It appears that yesterday the prisoner called at the office of r. James, and offered the three certificates for sale for the sum of $1,300. Mr. James, wishing to purphase the bonds, went out for the purpo of ascertizining whether they were genuine or not. Keene left the office at the same time, and said he would call again. On Mr. James' return Mr. Thomas Wilkum Ward. Consul at Panama, was in the office waiting for him, and being well as qualitated with the several signatures of Texas debt bonds, was asked by Mr. James if the estificates left by Keine were genuine or not. Mr. Ward at once declared them to be forgeries. At this moment Keene enterest the office, and on issuing that the certificates were forged, both throa from the hands of Mr. Ward and attempted to the rithest up. He had partially successed when his courts to destroy the documents were arrested, and he was given into the charge of officer Hays, who conducted him before Justice Comodly, at the lower police court, where he stated that he obtained the certificates from a Mr. Langeon, stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel. He

Mr. Langelon, stopping at the Metropolitan Rotel. He was committed to prison by the magistrate for examination. Other parties are raid to be concerned with Keene and measures are being taken to have them arrested.

CHARGE OF EMBEZILEMENT. Vesterday officer McClunky, of the lower police court, crested a man named William Golding, lately in the employ of the trues manufactory of Welsh & Co., 86 Foltoustreet, charged with having, while in their employ, embezzled $1,000 in small sense and at various times. He was taken before Justee Connolly, who committed him to prison in default of $2,000 bail.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND. Yesterday, a Mr. Charles Willis, surgeon, of No. 905 Broadway, entered a complaint against a girl named Johann Beuts, for burgarieusly entering his premises. She was accordingly arrested by officer Reath, of the She was accordingly arrested by officer Reath, of the Eighteenth word police, and taken before Justice Invid-son, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, who dismissed the complaint on the ground that sufficient evidence was not adduced to warrant his behing the privace. Johanna then entered a complaint for beatarily against Mr. Wills, in whose employ she had been, and who seemed somewhat surprised at the grave charge make against him, by the woman that he had a few moments before accused of a followy. The Justice held the de-fendant for beatardy and discharged the woman from custody.

THURSTENING LIVE.

Owner F. Stanhope was arrested yesterday by officer Councily, of the record ward police, charged, on the connoisy, of the record warm points, charged, on the complaint of Claus Wintgen, with having presented a revolver at his bean while three of the barrots were loaded, and threatening to hiow his brains out. The accessed was conveyed before Justice Countly, at the Lower Police Court, who held him for trial.

STABBING CASE-JEALOUSY THE CAUSE. Yesterday Sergeant Smith, of the Lower Police Cours, arrested a young lady of color, named Eliza Townsend, who is charged with having assaulted Harriet Williams, also colored, of 50 Orange street, with a knife or other sharp instrument, luffleting a severe wound in her side It appears that the young ladies have been for some time past or very had forms with each other, caused by each of them claiming to be the especial favorite of a darkey of immense proportions, living in the neighbor-hood of the Five Points, who regarded their ellorts at competing for his hand with the greatest gasto imagi-nable. Committed for trial.

First in Harry Strater.—A first broke out at 2 o'clock perturbal attension, in the cabinet and makings ay the strander at 80. 294 theiry street, in the ray, belonging to Gübert Histop. The premium had been closed for over a menth past, and in the workship was a lot of household furniture, which had been placed on storage. Mr. Bukop resides in the front building, and Mrs. Histop was the first person who discovered the first. His weet to the skop, unlocked the door, and found the first to burning amongst some of the feather beak. Mr. Bathop had an insurance of come $1,400 on his premises, but the priviles had expired, except $100, in the New York City Insubance Company. Mr. Bathop estimates his loss at about $100. The premises was a small two slowy frame homes, the whole of the upper part was desired. The fasteen, as usual, were quickly at work, and prevented the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings.

Know Nothing Political Intelligence. special session of the Grand Counch of the State New York is now in session at Odd Fellow. Hall, in this city. The call of this extra session, we learn, was made to pessess the suborduate Councils of this State of the new ritual and work adopted by the late Grand National Convention recently assembled in Congiunati. The new ritual and work, it is said, is far more national deits tone and imposing in its forms and ceremonies that any of its predecessors. The third degree in particular, it is stated, is an elegant structure, and eminently conservative and national in its tone and design, being, in fact, purely a national degree-a union of the North and South, East and West. The delegates in attendance on the State Grand Council number from twelve to fifteen hundred, and are rapidly augmenting in number by every train and steamboat. The semion will probably last three or four days, as it is generally under steed that the famous "test resolutions" coacted at the last session will either be much modified or repealed altogether. Council was inaugurated during the past week, by the Grand President of the New York State Council. Its President, a Senator from this city, and all its officers and members, are thoroughly anti-Seward. The design in instituting this Council, we presume, was to note and concentrate into one solid body all the elements of opposition to Seward, which, we learn, are sufficiently potent, if so concentrated, to insure his defeat. In the late election for common schools in the Fourth ward of this city, the American party, it appears, was the only party whose beliefs conformed to the requirements of the statute in which cases made and provided, and upon that ground they have contested the returns of the soft shell democracy before the Board of Education for Commissioners, and have initiated the requisite proceedtheir trustees. Eminent legal authorities have been consulted, and it is generally believed that their demand is too well fortified by the express terms of the statute to be successfully resisted.
